Airfreight specialists

One of Agility's major export customers of frozen and fresh salmon, located in Quellón, Chiloé (South of Chile), asked us to support them with their exports to Miami with full supply chain visibility of their cargoes from origin to final destination. Together with the customer, Agility developed a system that tracks their cargoes every step of the way. The system provided real-time updates on the status of purchase orders, procedures, customs, and final delivery. Agility proactively arranged bookings with airlines, securing the best transit times and pricing. This solution helped our customer coordinate their logistics with accuracy and efficiency, speeding up response times and reducing costs.
